

LEAD

1 Get Your Child Tested

Talk to your doctor about getting a lead test. It is the best way to test for lead.

Children younger than 6 years old are at the most risk for lead poisoning. Have your child tested at 1 year and 2 years old, or at least once before age 6.

Testing is free for children with Medicaid benefits and is covered by most insurance.

At least once before age 6

12 months &
24 months

